

Glenda Wong, CA
Associate Advisor
gwong@techpargroup.com

Glenda Wong brings to clients of TPG, over twenty-five years of global experience in financial services, information technology and financial management, providing services and solutions on strategy, people, process and technology.

Ms. Wong's financial services experience includes leadership and management roles in the U.S. Europe and Bermuda. Ms. Wong was Vice President at Wells Fargo's Consumer Credit Group, responsible for financial and management information systems. She was also Vice President at Bank of America, responsible for international investment management services. Prior to this role, Ms. Wong was a financial consultant in capital markets risk management, manager for special projects in clearing, settlement and custody systems conversions, and an international auditor in Europe with Bank of America. Ms. Wong also worked for Bank of Bermuda, responsible for audit and banking systems conversion resolution projects.

Ms. Wong's information technology experience includes leadership, management and consulting roles with Sun Microsystems, Wells Fargo and consulting firms that focused on data warehouse and business intelligence. At Sun Microsystems, Ms. Wong managed the delivery of a multi phase deployment of an enterprise business intelligence platform. At Wells Fargo, Ms. Wong championed and led the implementation of a new performance management system for planning, budgeting and forecasting as well as a new business intelligence system. At the two consulting firms, Idea Integration and BASE Consulting Group, Ms. Wong advised and enabled clients with strategic information systems, specifically data warehouse and business intelligence solutions across a broad range of industries, leading and driving projects from inception to completion.

Ms. Wong is also a chartered accountant, and in her early career, worked in public accounting and auditing with Price Waterhouse Canada.

Having lived and worked in abroad in Canada, Bermuda, Europe and the Middle East, as well as worked with business partners in Asia and Latin America, Ms. Wong has depth of understanding and knowledge of global and local work culture and operations.

Ms. Wong is a member of the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants, a Candidate for CFP® Certification, and a graduate from the University of British Columbia, Canada, where she received her Bachelor of Commerce degree in Accounting and Management Information Systems.