

Richard Ungar

Consultant

rungar@techpargroup.com

Richard Ungar is a senior management consultant, with over 30 years of Information Technology; Project Management, Program Management, Project Management Office, Business Analysis, Quality Assurance and IT Training experience. He fully understands business and is results and profit oriented. Rich works with end users and technical staff in order to develop, facilitate and roll out computer applications that fully meet the needs of the user at affordable costs and expected delivery schedules. Rich possesses extensive experience in the financial, brokerage, wholesale and retail industries.

Highly effective in: Project/Program Management, PMO, PMO Tools, Project Planning, Project Coordination, Project Facilitation, Project Tracking, Strategy Development, Risk Assessment and Management, Project Financials, Budgeting, Team Building, Business Analysis, Analytic Skills, User Requirements, User Sensitivities, Solution Management, Systems Design, Change Management, Consensus Building, Communications, Metrics Reporting, Senior Management Presentations, Milestone Tracking, Quality Assurance/User Acceptance Testing, Integration Testing and User Training

Richard's skills and experience include:

- Feasibility Studies, Strategic Planning Sessions, User Requirements, Package Evaluations and total systems development projects - from start to finish
- Budgets, resource planning and allocation, business & IT specifications, application development, testing and implementation as well as senior management status reporting
- Survey of the shared support departments of Chase to develop recommendations for improving operating efficiency. Presented over 75 recommendations for improvement and computerization, many of which were implemented during the same year
- Architected, designed, built and managed an Integration Test Facility for Development, User and Acceptance Testing for SIAC
- Set up a Project Management Office for an Infrastructure Support unit of a multi-billion dollar organization
- Managed the introduction of Check Imaging for a major global financial institution
- Created and managed Quality Assurance departments utilizing on/off-shore testing staff
- Trained over 1,000 Information Technology managers, analysts and users in Structured Systems Analysis

Mr. Ungar attended NYU for his MA in Computer Applications and Information Systems